Snowboarding

We skied south of town and found good below 30 degree sheltered skiing off the ridge up the canyon. Sheltered aspects were key to avoiding wind effected snow up higher. It started to get very windy late in the afternoon. Obviously lots of cross-loading going on. We didn't dig since we were sticking to what we considered as a group safe terrain from the outset. Poor visibility, cold, a ways back in there, blustering winds... laying low.
