

Safe test results in beehive

Date

Fri, 01/06/2023 - 14:30

Activity

Snowboarding

Dug a pit today near the prayer flags and got an ECTX on E slope around 9200' HS 140cm. Facets near the ground appeared to be rounding and bonding nicely. There is a weak layer at 110cm but not a cohesive slab above it, could be interesting when we get new snow. Did observe newly formed facets on the surface. Minor wind transport at ridge line in the afternoon. Mostly right-side up, quality riding

Region

Northern Madison

Location (from list)

Middle Basin