From email: "Continued, widespread collapsing today. About 10 good ones, and that was with very minimal trailbreaking/ about 700' vert.

No new avalanche activity to report today. But I did note a relatively fresh avalanche yesterday (12/22) north of Cooke. It was on a SE aspect, about 8900'. Widespread propagation there.

Widespread collapsing yesterday. Approx 20 significant collapses. Many shaking trees 50'+ away."
